

City Sleuths – Galveston – Program Overview

Are you familiar with scavenger or treasure hunts as team building activities? Well, City Sleuths is Team Craft's clever upgrade that is based on finding the answer to a series of riddles. This is a free form team building activity that works well for a group wanting a clever and engaging way to develop teamwork and relationships while participating in a more open ended, less structured, program format.

identify curious and historic elements by working past the obvious and easy answers. Each riddle is designed to challenge assumptions and typical ways of thinking, but also uses shared knowledge of general trivia and observation to generate the answer. To be successful teams need to be creative – think outside the lines - but still follow a logical thread. First impressions are typically wrong. So teams are encouraged to involve each member in sharing observations and ideas.

experience in greater detail than most visitors.

Prior experience with the activity location is unnecessary – it can actually work to a group's detriment if participants make too quick an assumption.

The standard program lasts from 2 to 3 hours. An extended version runs for 4 hours and includes a mid-way facilitated discussion to improve teamwork in the second round.

Each team needs to decipher riddles that cleverly cloak the identity of the street they need to go to, the building to look for, and the information needed there. It requires effective communication, shared problem solving, and open minds - all important elements of successful teamwork.

Team Craft facilitators support teams as appropriate. Each riddle is allotted points given its difficulty. Highest scoring team members are each awarded an engraved gold teamwork medal on a ribbon. Everyone receives a memento of the experience. We debrief the experience so participants can identify skills that were needed to be successful and relate them to work situations.

Let us solve the riddle of what program to do for your upcoming team activity. City

Sleuths is the answer you're looking for!

Riddles & Strategy

Each team is given a collection of riddles to solve. Teams are directed to a section of downtown Galveston to search out the answers. Figuring out each riddle leads them to a location where they'll find a little known humorous or curious fact related to local history, famous people, or artistic aspects of the location— and score points. Teams working in the same section can compete to score the most points.

What makes this activity so unusual and fun is that written riddles given to each team require participants to

Experience Historic Galveston

Galveston is among the most resilient cities in America. It is again restoring itself to reflect its historic past after Hurricane Ike in 2008. The city welcomes back everyone who wants to support this effort.

The Strand—Galveston's historic main street—is a short distance from the harbor and the tall ship Elissa that celebrates the city's connection to the sea.

The program is like a speed tour of points of interest that participants

Program Characteristics

- Groups of from 6 to 60 people participate in 3 to 5 member teams.
- Location: The Strand and adjoining streets in the historic center of the city. (Did you know strand is a term related to a strip of land adjoining a harbor? So being "stranded" is similar to "missing the boat"!)
- Length: Programs can last from two and one-half to four hours.